MEMBERSHIP GUIDELINES OF 170+ TALAYTAYAN MLE CONSORTIUM INC.

from Article IV (MEMBERSHIP) of the Constitution and By-laws

There are two Membership tracks to Talaytayan: (1) Regular Membership and (2) Associate Membership.

Section 1. Regular Membership. Membership to the Talaytayan MLE Consortium is a voluntary act, the admission of which is governed by the following basic qualifications:

- a. Membership to Talaytayan is open to all natural born and naturalized Filipino citizens who are of legal age, residing within the Philippines or abroad, a registered voter, and of good reputation with no criminal or derogatory record.
- b. Applicants for membership shall demonstrate support of and willingness to promote the core advocacies, and subscribe to the principles of Talaytayan as enshrined in its Constitution and by-laws.
- c. Membership application has to be supported by two recommendations from regular Talaytayan members or an endorsement of at least two character references with no blood relations to the applicant.
- d. Membership is either by an individual or by institutional or corporate entity.
- e. Applications must be accompanied by a full resume or curriculum vitae of the applicant (for individual membership) detailing his professional experience, expertise, qualifications and competencies that may be useful and beneficial to the organization.
- f. For institutional/corporate membership, a company profile should be submitted indicating contact persons and contact information.
- g. Applications for membership can only be reviewed and acted upon by the Membership Committee upon the favorable endorsement of the regular members.
- h. The authority to approve or deny membership application rests solely with the Executive Committee.
- i. The Executive Committee may approve a membership application in a resolution in regular meeting or in a special meeting called for that purpose.
- j. The membership Committee may deny a membership application in a resolution in regular meeting or in a special meeting called for that purpose for valid reasons regardless of the favorable endorsement of the Membership Committee.
- k. Appeals for denied applications shall be done by the applicant in writing, addressed to the Executive Committee.
- l. Denied applications shall be accorded a maximum of three appeals for inclusion, following the process as prescribed in paragraph j, Section 1 hereof, provided the grounds or arguments used in the succeeding attempts are not substantially the same as the first or second attempts.
- m. Membership applications will be processed only upon payment of a one-time registration fee of One Thousand Pesos for individual membership and Ten Thousand Pesos (my suggestion) for institutional membership. Applicants declined admission shall be refunded of their registration fee.
- n. Regular membership status can only be granted once the applicant has actively participated in at least three (3) Talaytayan activities, either as participant or resource person and after the applicant shall have sworn the Oath of Membership.
- o. In the event of non-compliance to this provision, the applicant shall, in writing, explain justifiably to Executive Committee the circumstances that warrant non-compliance.
- p. Refusal to take the Oath of Membership at once regardless of reasons shall warrant the nullity of the application, and shall automatically disqualify the applicant from further seeking membership in the organization.
- q. Upon granting of full membership status, members shall enjoy all the rights and privileges accorded to full-and-dues-paying members, including the right to vote and be voted upon in elections.
- r. Talaytayan, through its Membership Committee and the Board of Trustees, in a joint resolution, reserves the right to waive the aforementioned requirements in the case of an invitation being extended to a prospective member for his/her contribution to the furtherance of the MTBMLE cause in particular and the enhancement of basic education in general.

Section 2. Disqualification. The foregoing provisions are sufficient valid grounds for disqualification of members of the organization:

- a. Commission of any act contrary to the basic rules and principles of the Organization pursuant to Article ____ of the Constitution and By-laws.
- b. Membership in any organization whose interests are contrary, inimical and/or detrimental to the interests of Talaytayan MLE Consortium.
- c. Court conviction arising from criminal, civil or administrative cases.

Section 3. Rights and Privileges. Every Member in good standing shall have the following rights:

- a. Each regular, dues-paying, and good-standing member has the right to nominate candidates to any elective position in the organization, vote and be voted as an officer, provided that he/she has been a member of good standing for at least six (6) months.
- b. Each member has the right to demand from the officers accountability on finances and other matters for the sake of integrity and transparency, including access to financial records of the organization as may be warranted.

- c. Each member shall enjoy equal access to facilities and equipment of the organization, including Talaytayan copyrighted materials, provided all existing copyright infringement laws and regulations are fully adhered to.
- d. Each member or group of members shall enjoy the right to determine activities based on their capacities, including their capacity to fund such activities, provided that these activities fall within the ambit and among the priorities of Talaytayan.
- e. Each member is entitled to whatever benefits that Talaytayan in the future may accord its members without discrimination as to his or her gender, age, ethnicity, and religion.
- f. Each member is entitled to due process and fair arbitration in cases of violation of any, some, or all of the provisions of the Talaytayan rules, regulations, duties, and responsibilities whereby he or she faces appropriate disciplinary action for.
- g. Each member has the right to be fully informed about activities of Talaytayan.
- h. Each member has the right to participate in any or all of the activities of Talaytayan.
- i. Each member has the right to express his/her opinions and to offer suggestions, in the proper forum in a manner and means appropriate, with the end on view of promoting interest and contributing to the development and welfare of Talaytayan and its members.
- j. Each member has the right to air his/her grievance, file any complaint against any officer or member of Talaytayan in the proper venue.

Section 4. Duties and Responsibilities. Every Member shall have the following duties and obligations:

- a. Each member shall abide by Constitution and By-Laws, principles and advocacies of the organization.
- b. Each member shall comply with the duly promulgated rules, regulations, guidelines, and decisions rendered by the organization.
- c. Each member shall pay in full and on time all membership fees and dues as assessed and mandated by the organization.
- d. Each member shall actively participate in all activities and undertakings of the organization.
- e. Each member shall contribute in any way and in any manner he or she can to the promotion and advancement of the principles, values, and advocacies, as well as traditions that the Talaytayan as an organization cherishes and has sworn to uphold.
- f. Each member shall respect the cultural, ethnic, linguistic and religious diversity that exists among members and shall work towards tolerance and harmonious coexistence among themselves amidst all these differences.
- g. Each member shall work to advance the interests and promote and enhance a positive image through effective public relations strategies, and protect the integrity of the Talaytayan and shall not in any manner or by any means engage in activities that are inimical to the organization and its members.
- h. Each member shall swear to safeguard the organization's confidentiality.
- i. Each member shall keep himself/herself informed of the organization's activities, especially in the chapter where the member belongs.
- j. Each member shall endeavor himself/herself to recruit members to expand and strengthen further the organization.
- k. Each member shall assist fellow member who are in need in a way they can.
- l. It is a duty of all members to register and vote in local and national elections.

Section 5. Definition of Member in Good Standing. A member in good standing is one who

- a. is not delinquent in the payment of his/her membership fees and dues imposed by the Organization;
- b. is not under suspension for violation of any and/or all provisions in Section 2 of Article XIII of this Constitution and By-laws.

Section 6. Termination and Restitution of Membership. Membership in the Talaytayan MLE Consortium shall be terminated by:

- a. voluntary resignation
- b. expulsion
- c. removal from office in the case of elected officers
- d. death

Section 7. Restitution. Restitution of membership may be granted on a case-to-case basis, subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees and pursuant to Section ____, Par. ____ of Article ____ of the Constitution and By-laws.

Section 8. Associate Membership. Associate members do not have voting rights with limited participation to Organizational meetings. They are granted the same access to organizational activities, except voting, that promote the principles, core advocacies and programs of the Organization. Their annual dues are to be determined by the respective chapters where they belong.
