In our own words - film festival

What?

- Film festival about indigenous cultures and their languages.
- 3 days of meetings and dialogue, sharing and experience the linguistic and cultural richness of our world.
- Celebration of linguistic and cultural diversity.
- Part of the celebrations of the International Year of Indigenous Language.

In our own words - film festival

Why?

- We want to present the culture and languages of small communities.
- It's up to us to strengthen indigenous languages communities that are trying to save their linguistic and cultural patrimony. We want to convey to them the feeling that they are essential and audible.

Why film festival?

- This is an excellent way to reach a broad audience - we have a chance to build awareness about the existence of indigenous languages among people who have not been interested in it.
